

SHAWN
GARDNER

With more than a decade of problem solving experience and a graduate degree in Conflict Management, Shawn Gardner has developed a passion and keen insight into problem solving analysis. As a father and a fatherhood advocate, a Leadership Louisville Bingham Fellow, a Center for Urban Families Fathers Practitioner Leadership Fellow, a Just Leadership Leading with Conviction Fellow, and a successful author, Shawn has used his multiple talents to start a non-profit organization, 2NOT1: Fatherhood & Families, Inc. Under Shawn's leadership, various entities were brought together to improve neighborhoods and strengthen families in Louisville, KY.

Currently, Shawn is pursuing a Ph.D. in Agriculture Education and Extension. He believes a doctorate in Ag Sciences Extension Education will enhance his community outreach efforts through program development, evaluation, and research.
